
PUBLIC TRANSIT

Kansas receives Federal-aid for transit services and related programs through the Federal Transit Act. The principal programs of the act provide funding for capital and operation assistance for transport of persons with disabilities, elderly persons and the general public. Kansas annually provides 2.4 million dollars in state funding to these public transportation programs.

49 USC 5304

This program provides financial assistance to states for statewide planning and other technical assistance activities (including supplementing the technical assistance program provided through the Metropolitan Planning Formula Program), planning support for nonurbanized areas, research, development and demonstration projects, fellowships for training in the public transportation field, university research, and human resource development.

49 USC 5316

This program provides funds to local governmental authorities and agencies and nonprofit entities for capital and operating costs of equipment, facilities, and associated capital maintenance items related to providing access to jobs. Also included are the costs of promoting the use of transit by workers with nontraditional work schedules, promoting the use of transit vouchers, and promoting the use of employer-provided transportation including the transit benefits. For Reverse Commute grants, the following activities are eligible: operating costs, capital costs and other costs associated with reverse commute by bus, train, carpool, vans or other transit service. Job Access grants are intended to provide new transit service to assist welfare recipients and other low-income individuals in getting to jobs, training, and child care. Reverse Commute grants are designed to develop transit services to transport workers to suburban job sites.
