KDOT celebrates 50th Anniversary of I-70 with sign unveiling ceremony in northwest Kansas

Secretary Lorenz is joined by Senator Rick Billinger, Mary Eisenhower and KDWPT Secretary Brad Loveless to unveil new 50th Anniversary signage on I-70.

New signs celebrating the 50th anniversary of the completion of I-70 will greet travelers entering Kansas from Colorado.

Secretary Lorenz was joined by Senator Rick Billinger, Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks and Tourism Secretary Brad Loveless and Dwight D. Eisenhower's granddaughter, Mary Eisenhower to unveil the new signs. The ceremony took place Aug. 20 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the completion of I-70 and unveiled new signage that will greet travelers as they travel across Kansas.

This important 424 miles of highway stretches from Kansas City to the Colorado border and is one of the most important freight corridors in our country.

Each day around $600 billion in goods travels across Kansas on our interstate system.

"The open road is part of our national identity," Lorenz said. "We have built them, and they have shaped us."

"In the last 20-years the people of Kansas have invested around $1.1 billion in I-70's expansion, repair, and maintenance," Lorenz said.

"That is why the passage of the Eisenhower Legacy Transportation Program was so important, and why its successful implementation will be essential to the growth of Kansas."

*"Today is a great day.
A day to celebrate and remember. A day to dedicate ourselves to the work that is to come."
— Secretary Julie Lorenz*

Tech tip: Sharing documents in One Drive with external contacts

When sharing a document with OneDrive, there will also be an option that says, "People in State of Kansas, OITS with the link can view."

If you click this option, it brings up a menu that allows you to select who has access to this document.

You can also give specific permissions based on what each person needs to do or who can download it. Once permissions are set, click apply and send the document.

Now your document should be accessible by the requested individuals.

Teamwork in north central Kansas gets the job done

Teamwork and KDOT are two words that go well together, and it is not hard to find examples across the agency.

This was the case earlier this month in north central Kansas when workers came together from several crews across the district to complete pavement repair.

Equipment operators and supervisors from the District Specials Crew, Salina Subarea, Lindsborg Subarea and Council Grove Subarea worked together to begin pavement repair on the K-4 just north of Lindsborg.

After preparing the roadway for a new pavement, the roadway received a new asphalt overlay, which was completed on Tuesday, Aug. 4.

Cedar Bluff bridge opens to traffic

The new bridge at the Cedar Bluff reservoir on K-147 in Trego County is now open to traffic. The bridge was closed in June 2019 because of safety concerns.

Construction on the bridge replacement project began in early February. The original structure was built in the early 1950s.

It's not too late to complete the 2020 census!
It only takes a few minutes —
but the benefits will last a lifetime.
KANSAS COUNTS
Census 2020

Go to: <https://2020census.gov>

Completing the census helps Kansas receive crucial federal funds, which help our communities, our infrastructure and our future.

It's quick and easy to fill out! Go to <http://2020census.gov> and make sure you are counted. If you have friends or family who have yet to complete their census, encourage them to do so as soon as possible!

We are asking all KDOT employees to change their digital email signatures to help encourage others to complete their census. Thanks to all KDOT employees who have already done so.
